See below on a conference in Seattle on Ethics. Thoughts on submitting something? I'd be happy to take the lead if we had an idea of what we might submit.

Dear Dr. Canney,

You may remember that we met when you were at the Seattle University. I am in the process of organizing the 10thInternational Conference on Ethics in Biology, Engineering, and Medicine (ICEBEM 2020) that will be held in Seattle, 24-26 April 2020. In addition to the general sessions, there will be two Symposia (Ethical Issues in Dentistry, & Ethical Issues in Cancer Research and Treatment) as well as a workshop on Research Integrity and Responsible Conduct in Research as a part of this meeting. Because of your interest in such topics, I would like to invite you to present a paper at this conference. If you agree, please send me a tentative title of your paper. This will help me to apply for a conference grant to NIH and NSF. I would also like to invite you to write a paper for the Ethics in Biology, Engineering and Medicine: An International Journal for publication.

This conference will be sponsored by the University of Washington and co-sponsored or endorsed by many other professional societies (i.e., American Association of Bioethics and Humanities; Biomedical Engineering Society; IEEE Society on Social Implications of Technology; American Institute of Medical and Biological Engineering; International Federation of Medical and Biological Engineering; and Sigma Xi, The Scientific Research Society). I am enclosing the Instruction for Authors, Programs of our last two meetings and the preliminary Call for Abstracts for our next conference for your perusal. If you need any other information from me, please let me know. I wish you and your family a Very Happy New Year,
